

While we're on Swarthmore College it brings to mind the story that made a hero out of Dick Post, the Garnet lacrosse star. Dick and his basket-weaving pals were watching the Lehigh-Swarthmore track meet, waiting for it to get over so they could begin their lacrosse match. Two field events remained, the shot put and discus. Dick felt the need of a little action before his lacrosse game, and asked Coach Bert Barron if he might get in those events. The coach agreed and Dick stepped up with heaves that won first place in both contests. This showing gave Dick ten points and a track letter, although he had never been in a track suit before or has not been since.
