

Marshall Gatchell, who does the refereeing out at the Swarthmore box lacrosse games, was the main sufferer in that little argument Wednesday night. One of the Philly lacrosse athletes let a haymaker go and when the object of its (effections) ducked Marshall caught it on the chin.