As "natural" as a six and a five, these come as close as words can to describe Curtis Gallagher's athletic ability.

Curt, a resident of Wallingford and a graduate of Swarthmore High School, is currently making a name for himself as one of the most versatile if not one of the greatest athletes in the history of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, where he is in his junior year.

Since he arrived at F. & M. as a second semester freshman in February, 1949, he has collected six letters for varsity sports.

Six is a good round number and is enough for any self-respecting athlete, but not Curt. If all goes well he should graduate with a minimum of 10 letters obtained in four sports, soccer, basketball, lacrosse and track.

Impressive as all this might sound, the amazing fact of the matter is that Curt had only played one of the four sports before he came to F. & M.

He was brought up on basketball, and as co-captain at F. & M. he has proven this many times over. As far as the other three go, he was introduced to lacrosse at Swarthmore High, but he did not start as a varsity player. At F. & M. he has starred on the attack in this sport, while doing equally well on the defense in soccer as "goalie." Track has won him more honors.

Although he is not too sure of his future plans, he said that he would like to go away for a rest some time. He deserves it.

Ralph Keown, Norwood lad who was a basketball star of the first water at Glen-Nor High School, graduating in 1946, is now traveling the country as a member of crack naval drill team from the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla.

After graduating from Glen-Nor, Ralph took the Navy V-5 tests and was assigned to the University of Pennsylvania Naval Unit. He then went to the Pensacola base and was captain of the basketball team.
